Email change verification and notification process

When a user changes their email, they will receive a verification email at their new address. Once the new email is verified, users will be able to log in with the new credentials and will also receive a success notification email at their old address.

Payment Retry Process: Handling Failures and Adding Packages

When a payment fails from Esewa, users have the option to retry the payment. If the payment retry is clicked, the system will check if the payment was successfully processed. If the payment is found, subjects or packages will be added to the user's account. If the payment is not found, the packages will not be added, and the payment will be canceled.

Limit on Incorrect Four-Digit Code Attempts

There is now a limitation on entering an incorrect four-digit code in the private channel of the chatroom. If the user enters the code incorrectly multiple times, they will have to wait 5 minutes before re-entering the code.
